

WMWR Weekend

Presented by
Climbers For Christ, Texoma Chapter
At WMWR (Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge)
near Lawton, OK.
March,30 and 31. 2019

Weekend Overview

We will arrive at Camp Doris (at WMWR) on Friday evening where campsites will already be selected making it easy to set up camp. Saturday morning there will be a brief get together, and then off to breakfast and the granite. We'll return to the campsite late afternoon for dinner and a time of fellowship around the campfire...in addition to a time of sharing about what Solid Rock means to each of us. Sunday, it's a short devo (devotion), break camp and then on to breakfast and climbing. We'll climb till around early afternoon, and break down our climbs. Then for those who would like to join us, head for a local eatery.

Bring With You

- Tents and sleeping bags and all the usual camping items (ask if you would like to have a complete list)
- Climbing gear (there is gear to borrow, just let us know ahead)
- Rain gear, layers and other clothing for camping
- Snacks for during the day...plus hydration containers
- Camp chairs for camp

Other Weekend Info

The weekend cost is $15 per person or $20 per family for camping fees, etc. You may pay when you arrive at Camp Doris (at WMWR). There are no furnished meals for this event. We will visit a local café for breakfast on Saturday and Sunday mornings (participants responsibility)...and have a carry in dinner for Saturday evening with everyone bringing their favorite dish/side item or items. You are not limited to bringing just one side item.
